

DE LAS DOS CULTURAS

From Both Cultures

Christians living a multi-cultural lifestyle in East Texas have a new avenue for learning God's Word. "De Las Dos Culturas" is a new Sunday Morning Bible Study option for second generation Hispanics, blended culture families and multi-cultural Latino ethnicities. The lessons are taught in Spanish from the same Bible curriculum used in English-speaking classes, and the study guides are in English. Many participants use bilingual Bibles to reference Scripture in both languages.

Ernesto and Christine Leon lead the diverse group, including people from Mexico, Ecuador, Nicaragua, Argentina, Peru, Colombia, Venezuela, Spain and America. "We have such a hope in our God who loves the nations," the Leons say of their multi-cultural class. If you are studying Spanish or have Spanish-speaking friends and would like to join this new SMBS, meet at 9:45 A.M. in Galilee Room A or contact the Adult Education Office at 903-525-3249.
